

Who Is COI?

Christian Outreach International is a recognized missionary organization of 30 years and 30,000 mission trip participants.

We are sought after for our customized, relevant, and hands-on short-term outreach projects and trips. We mobilize volunteers to domestic and global service.

We train new field missionaries, support the ministry of our respected COI full-time missionaries and staff, and sustain on-going, year-round mission work.

Why Choose COI?

Experience in short-term missions: Matching your team to the site and service options that will accomplish your ministry goals while utilizing your groups' special skills and talents.

Expertise in short-term projects: Making outreach easy for you. Our safe, cost-effective, and well organized trips add to your success.

Focus on the Great Commission: Making your experience life-changing and fruitful.

Commitment to relational ministry: Fulfilling your goals, partnering in the development of your missions program, and connecting you to quality relationships on the mission field.

"...When you go on the mission field with COI you know you are going to be working side by side with full time missionaries or nationals...This is God using the unique gifts of your group to enhance a ministry that is already in place and will continue after your group leaves. This is the way short term missions ought to be done."

N. Lenard

COI offers group and individual outreaches to church groups of all ages, youth groups, Christian school groups, college missions, sports and business teams.
